

Director of Health Care Access and Clinical Instructor, Health Law and Policy Clinic
Center for Health Law & Policy Innovation (CHLPI)
Harvard Law School

Job Summary:

Reporting to the Faculty Director of the Center for Health Law and Policy Innovation's (CHLPI's) Health Law and Policy Clinic (HLPC), the Director of Health Care Access/Clinical Instructor directs a team of staff, fellows, and law students to advocate for legal, regulatory, and policy reforms to expand access to high-quality healthcare; to reduce health disparities; and to promote more equitable and effective health and public health systems. This position represents a unique opportunity to join a dynamic public interest program practicing in burgeoning areas of state and national importance and to teach and mentor law students to become skilled, innovative, and thoughtful health system practitioners. This position is eligible for flexible work and schedule arrangements. Candidates based in both the Boston and Washington DC areas will be considered. The salary range for this position is $92,000-$160,400 (Grade 59). For more information about CHLPI, visit: www.chlpi.org

Job Specific Responsibilities:

As the Director of Health Care Access and a Clinical Instructor, you will:

- Drive strategy development and oversee the Center's Health Care Access and Coverage portfolio, which is comprised of several projects including: (1) Federal Health Care Policy Reform, (2) Strengthening State Health Care Coverage, and (3) Reproductive and Sexual Health Care.
- Lead the Federal Health Care Policy Reform project--a portfolio of advocacy work designed to reform or leverage federal laws, policies and programs (i.e., in Medicaid, Medicare, the Affordable Care Act) to improve access to high-quality and affordable health care for people living with chronic conditions (such as HIV and hepatitis C) and for people living with low incomes;
- Maintain and build upon CHLPI's long-standing leadership of national coalitions, including the HIV Health Care Access Working Group and the Chronic Illness and Disability Partnership;
- Supervise and support the work of clinical instructors, staff attorneys and fellows on the Health Care Access Team;
- Supervise and train clinical students on lawyering skills, including law and policy analysis, research and writing, oral communication, public presentation, technical assistance, strategic development, legislative drafting, and administrative comment writing to support their engagement in our policy advocacy work with clients, community partners and government officials;
- Assist with development and teaching of classroom courses offered in conjunction with the Clinic;
- Deliver talks and trainings to clients, partners, and policymakers, and represent the Clinic at local and national conferences and events;
- Help develop and meet the expectations for grants and other sources of funding;
- Support the administrative tasks of the Clinic, including conference and event planning, student outreach, communications, development, and other tasks that arise; and,
- As a member of the Clinic's leadership team, collaborate with Clinic colleagues to help develop and implement the vision for the future success of the innovative health law and policy work conducted by the Clinic.

Basic Qualifications: JD required, five years or more relevant law, policy and management experience, and admitted to a state bar.

EEO Statement: We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.
